

Within Tournament in a Box, Secure Code Warrior® provides a lot of creative and promotional assets. You might want to use them to brand other aspects of your security training program, outside of just tournaments. That's totally fine and we do encourage it!

Below is a summary of the creative commons license information.

License Type

Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 International (CC BY-NC-ND 4.0)

You are free to:

Share – copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format

The licensor cannot revoke these freedoms as long as you follow the license terms.

Under the following terms:

Attribution – You must give appropriate credit, provide a link to the license, and indicate if changes were made. You may do so in any reasonable manner, but not in any way that suggests the licensor endorses you or your use. (From Secure Code Warrior's point of view, attribution is not necessary.)

Non-Commercial – You may not use the material for commercial purposes.

No Derivatives – If you remix, transform, or build upon the material, you may not distribute the modified material. (All Secure Code Warrior branding and logos must remain intact and in place.)

No additional restrictions – You may not apply legal terms or technological measures that legally restrict others from doing anything the license permits.

Notices

You do not have to comply with the license for elements of the material in the public domain or where your use is permitted by an applicable exception or limitation.

No warranties are given. The license may not give you all of the permissions necessary for your intended use. For example, other rights such as publicity, privacy, or moral rights may limit how you use the material.
