

Great things in business are never done alone.

Warrior Partner Program

With more companies and more aspects of daily life reliant on technology, developers are in the driver's seat, working hard to write the code that makes the software society relies on a reality.

Partners help to spread the word on secure coding, and share Secure Code Warrior's vision that security should start left in the Secure Software Development Lifecycle (SSDLC) in order to enable developers to be the front line of defense for their organizations.

Join the movement to spread the word to the 25 million software developers on the planet that secure code and quality code should be synonymous.

“ Our goal is to build mutually beneficial relationships with key trusted partners in the developer and security ecosystem, delivering a stronger combined value to our customers. By upgrading developer-led secure coding, every team can be inspired to ship quality code with confidence. ”

Pieter Danhieux, Co-Founder and CEO of Secure Code Warrior

“ We are excited to be an Elite level Warrior Engage partner of Secure Code Warrior. Enabling a security mindset within organizations is a critical element to help manage the increasing digital risk our customers face. I have been amazed at how vocal and passionate our customers, and their developers, have been when introduced to Secure Code Warrior's innovative and engaging platform. ”
